WORLD'S FAIR.

History has recorded the acts and the results of the acts of man since the dawn of ages, but the methods, means and processes by which the acts and results were accomplished are all to be seen within the grounds of the World's Fair at St. Louis.

The United States Government building is now complete, and is the finest and one of the most interesting exhibits on the grounds. Each department of the government has a fine display, and the building is always full of sight-seers.

Upon entering the building from the front, the first thing to attract the eye will be the exhibit made by the Smithsonian Institution. Standing mounted upon pedestals is a group of animals, among them being the giraffe, rhinoceros, hippopotamus, black and polar bear and other animals with which we are more or less familiar. But here is one monster with which we are not familiar, and every one who sees this gigantic horned diabolus standing on his pedestal looking just as he did in by gone ages, one usually exclaims: "I am glad this animal is extinct." There is also a cast of a whale, showing the whale just as he swam in the water, measuring 78 feet from the end of his nose to the tip of his tail. By the side of the cast of this whale is mounted the skeleton of a whale taken last year. This skeleton is complete, and weighs over five thousand pounds. The comment of visitors at the sight of this skeleton is to admit there "was plenty of room for Jonah."

The display of the War Department is very fine, and is made from the things in actual use by the War Department of the United States Government. The artillery display includes coast defense guns, Maxim rapid fire, Colts rapid fire, Gatling guns and mounted batteries. The great coast defense 76-inch gun, 60 feet long, and of weight so enormous that it is estimated by tons is here. A mountain battery is mounted on mules, just like actual life. Standing beside the mules of the mountain battery is a piece of artillery with the horses harnessed, saddled and everything ready to move at the word of command. So lifelike do the horses appear, that while looking at them you expect them to move at any moment. There are several pack mules standing packed ready for an expedition into the enemy's country with Uncle Sam's boys in blue. The War Department has on display all the kinds of weapons, battle flags and appliances used since the Government was formed, with portraits of the famous generals that commanded our armies.

The Navy Department exhibit is extremely interesting and instructive to the landsman. Models of the famous warships of the United States, complete to the minutest detail, including all the ships from the Maine and Oregon to the last one placed in commission are shown, enclosed in glass cases, with all parts in view.

The central attraction in the naval display is a warship with guns mounted and port holes open ready for action. The floor around the ship is painted to represent the sea. A door opening into the ship from the floor of the building which you enter at the bow. The interior is fitted up just like a ship in real life, with officers quarters, ward rooms, sick bays and other appliances that go with a ship; down below you see the boiler room, stokers, and everything like real life. In the bow, near the entrance, is a room containing a group of officers and men of the navy, from a Rear Admiral to a United States Marine, dressed in the uniform of their rank, and so life-like that you will have to take close second look to convince yourself that they are not alive and awaiting some word of command.

The Treasury Department has a complete exhibit, including the machinery used in the United States mint. The machinery used in the mint since the establishment of the government is shown from the small hand coining stamp to the powerful machine that coins millions of gold and silver every year.

In one corner of the building is a post office, fitted up in the latest and most approved style for handling mail. This postoffice is equipped for actual use during the Exposition, and handles the mail for the Exposition. It is known as Exposition Station, and free delivery from this station is made four times a day to all parts of the World's Fair grounds.

The Government Building is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day except Sunday, and everything in the building is free for public inspection.

A whole day spent in this building is a veritable treat, and after a day's visit to this section would be recalled as one of the most pleasant incidents of your stay at the truly great World's Fair.

BUY BACK OLD PROPERTY.

Some years ago Capital Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., became straitened in their finances, and, in order to pay off the bonds issued, when building Odd Fellows' Temple, sold the north end of that building to Mr. L. Davis. Since then they have been enabled, by good management, to get in good shape again.

On Tuesday they re-purchased the building from Mr. Davis, and now own the whole of it again. They are to be congratulated, as it is a good piece of property. The price, which is a good one, is probably a good piece of property. The price, which is a good one, is probably

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Grant Trumbo was tried, on Tuesday, on a warrant charging him and one or two others with assaulting Wm. Luehrle, the offense being committed on Sunday last. Trumbo was fined $10 in costs and the other parties dismissed. It don't pay to throw eggs, etc., even at the humblest citizen.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

Mr. J. Will Graham has been awarded the contract for the interior woodwork of the Southern Presbyterian Church, which is to be very handsome and will be made of quartered oak.

When completed it will be one of the prettiest churches in this section of the country.

BULLY BOYS.

We desire to congratulate the Frankfort Cornet Band upon success which they made in the music furnished by them. They are as good a band as any in the State and held their own any time, even with the famous "Smithy" band, of Cincinnati. Bully boys.

LADIES AND CHILDREN

Who can not stand the shocking strain of laxative syrups and cathartic pills are especially fond of Little Early Biscuits. All persons who are necessary to a liver medicine should try these little pills, and compare the agreeably pleasant and strengthening effect with the nauseating and weakening conditions following the use of other laxatives.

Little Early Biscuits cure biliousness, constipation, sick headache, jaundice, malaria and liver troubles. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

ELECTED BISHOP.

Rev. Jno. G. Murray, D. D., of Baltimore, Md., has been elected Bishop of Louisville, by the Episcopal Convention, which met in Hopkinsville this week. He is said to be an able and consecrated preacher.

WEDNESDAY'S FIRE.

At 8:50, on Wednesday morning, an alarm from box 18 called the fire boys to a small cottage, occupied by colored people, on Fowler street, which was damaged to the extent of some $200. The furniture was pretty badly wrecked in being removed.

HELD UP IN LEXINGTON.

Former Jailer Martin Lawrence was held up, in Lexington, on Friday night, and robbed of some $40, smashed over the head inflicting a gash some three inches long. Lawrence claims to be able to identify the robbers and that he gave one of them something to remember him by in the way of a blow.

NOMINATED FOR RE-ELECTION.

After one of the hottest fights ever seen in this Congressional district Congressman South Trimble was re-nominated, on Friday evening, by the skin of his teeth, receiving 53 votes to 51 for his opponent.

Rumors of all sorts of deals are rife, some of which are admitted and others denied.

PARTIALLY PARALYZED.

It is with sincere regret that we learn that Dr. Wm. H. Averill, the veteran druggist, sustained a partial stroke of paralysis on Sunday night last. Dr. Averill has been in poor health for some time. He is a good man and valuable citizen and will be greatly missed should he finally succumb.

SATURDAY'S ALARM.

SPONSOR HERE.

Judge Jas. P. Tarvin, of Covington, spoke at the Court house, on Monday night, in the interest of Congressman W. T. Hearst's candidate for President.

THOSE OLD DIRTY AWNINGS.

A lady manager of the Civic League has called our attention to the old, soiled and dilapidated awnings that so many of our business men are using in front of their establishments. Would it not be a good idea for them to have a new and clean awning put up? They certainly add to the attractiveness of a business house.

FRANKFORT BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

Messrs. Moses O'Connor and Edgar F. Suter have issued a prospectus announcing their purpose to shortly publish a business directory for our city. This is a much needed enterprise, as no such directory has been put out since 1892. We hope these gentlemen will meet with abundant encouragement.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. I saw Dr. F. Suter and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been advised to use this medicine. Marshall, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at all drugists.

No. 41-43 ST. CLAIR ST.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

Not a great while ago our kinsman, Mr. W. J. Lewis, was traveling on the railroad, when a gentleman, who had been "looking upon the wine when it is red," spying him in a car full of gentlemen and ladies, insisted that he was the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, Senator from New York, and well known after-dinner orator, insisted upon his addressing the crowd.

Mr. Lewis, whose modesty is well known, tried in vain to convince the gentleman that he was mistaken in his man. He exclaiming "you needn't deny it. You can't fool me. I know you are Mr. Depew."

While Mr. Lewis does resemble Mr. Depew, he blushingly disclaims being an orator.

ARM BROKEN.

Master Geo. T. Stagg, Jr., son of Mr. Thos. H. Stagg, was playing upon a slanting plank, a foot or so above the ground, on Monday, when he slipped and fell breaking his right arm just above the elbow. It was a clean break and the surgeon, Dr. ——, had but little trouble in reducing the fracture. He is doing nicely and will soon be all right.

DEATH OF CHAS. FEATHERSTON, ESQ.

This fine old Kentucky gentleman, who has been ill so long, "passed over the river" on yesterday morning, aged about 81 years.

Mr. Featherston was born and raised in this county, and had spent the larger part of his long and earnest life in this city.

He was a devout Christian, and had been, for many long years, a member of the First Baptist Church of this city. Faithful, earnest, manly and true-hearted, he scorned deceit and was everywhere known for his upright, honest and consistent life. Fearless and independent in thought and action, he was ready to stand for what he thought to be right, regardless of consequences, yet, at the same time, modest and retiring in disposition.

He was a gallant soldier in the Mexican war, being one of the very few left in our city who followed the starry flag to the halls of the Montezas mas.

Having known "in whom he believed," when the last summons came, he was not afraid, for his weary head was pillow'd on "the everlasting arms."

We have known and loved Mr. Featherston all our life, and we cherished his regard as a priceless thing.

Mr. Featherston was twice married. By his first wife he had one daughter, Mrs. Ann Mary Stephens, of Celina, O. His second wife was Miss Jennie Hodges, a daughter of the late Rev. Frank H. Hodges, of blessed memory, but they had no children.

He leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn the loss of a sincere and honest man, a devoted husband and father, and a truly friend.

The funeral services will be conducted from the family residence, on Holmes street, on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, by Rev. M. B. Adams, his pastor.

FRANKFORT, MAY 21, 1903

THE GRAND CONCLAVE.

Splendid Array of Gallant Knights.

Our Pretty City in Gala Attire.

The Knights Templar of Kentucky convened to active in this city on Tuesday afternoon preparatory to the assembling of the Fifty-seventh Annual Conclave.

As a prelude to the occasion, from 7 o'clock until 11 p. m., Rt. Eminent Grand Commander George E. Johnson and wife, received the Knights at their home, on Second street, some four hundred Knights and ladies being present.

From 8 until 11 p. m., Rt. Eminent Grand Commander Frank E. Johnson and wife, entertained at their home, on Shelly street. A large and happy crowd were present to do honor to the occasion.

By the time for the formation of the grand march, Wednesday morning, there were some five hundred Knights on hand, beside their fair wives and daughters.

Owing to the delay in the arrival of several trains, the commencement of the grand march was delayed for about an hour.

The several Commanderies were duly assigned to positions on Fourth Avenue, Third Avenue, Second and Conway streets, under the command of Grand Captain George E. Johnson, and wife, of Mayfield, assisted by Sir Knights W. S. Dehoney as Grand Marshal and S. W. Hager and Gilbert H. Mastin Assistants.

Amid sweet strains of martial music emanating from eight splendid bands, with dancing plumes and waving banners the procession moved over the assigned course, arriving in time for the church, where the ritualistic services were conducted by Past Grand Commander J. M. Worrall, D. D., and the annual sermon preached, in the presence of a splendid audience filling the bldchors from pulpit to the last seat in the Sunday-school room and balcony, by Rev. T. T. Eaton, D. D., of Louisville.

A special choir of trained voices, in the meantime, rendered a number of beautiful selections of appropriate music.

At the conclusion of the sermon (which was an able and inspiring one), Gov. J. W. Beck, a member of Marion Commandery No. 24, on behalf of Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, delivered a short and appropriate extempore address of welcome.

R. E. Grand Commander Geo. A. Lewis made the following response on behalf of the Grand Commandery:

Sir Knight Beckham, Fratres of Frankfort Commandery, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Owing to the extreme modesty of some of the Grand Officers, I find myself compelled to speak in my own name, in addressing you, in the hope of saving to respond to an address of welcome delivered on behalf of my own city, my own Commandery, neighbors and my friends; but, as the representative of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, I am just as grateful for your generous greeting extended to these, my fraternities, as though I came to you from the most remote section of the State.

Your reputation for hospitality is not confined by your encircling hills, but is a household word throughout this broad land, and we are here to enjoy it to the fullest extent.

It is an unusual honor for us to be honored by the Chief Executive of our State, and we appreciate the compliment you bestow in having your welcome come from such high authority.

You is not a city set upon a hill, yet it is seen of all men in Kentucky, and is the Mecca towards which the politician sets his face, even while yet in a state of incubation. You are a city soon to be crowned with fruition, and he arrives among you as the representative of an admiring constituency, he is loath to leave; for you have a way of weaving a magic

Grip's

Grim Grasp Caused Heart Disease.
Could Not Lie On Left Side.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

Mrs. H. R. Jobe, formerly of Birmingham, Alas., writes from Eldredge, the same state, as follows:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure. I only wish that I could tell every sufferer how good they have done me. Last winter I was nearly dead with Grippe, which left my heart in a very bad condition. I could not lie down for the swelling spells that would occur, come night, and a feeling of oppression around my heart. I had not so bad that I could lie on my left side for a long time. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, and I have no trouble now with my heart and can lie on my left side as well as my right. Formerly I had suffered for years with nervous prostration, and I have now remedies that I had not clear out of heart of getting anything that would help me. All the nerves in my body were so bad that sometimes I would cry so it would seem to stop altogether. It was on the advice of a lady friend that I tried your Restorative Remedy. After taking a few doses and two bottles of Nervine and one of Heart Cure made me feel like a new person. I had all right again my nervousness has gone, never fail as I was recommended to others afflicted as I was."

spell about those who are sent up to you, holding some in the sacred precincts of your hearts and homes, and others in the confines of your penitentiary. The first would not leave you, though you might be the second to distinguish them.

A distinguished citizen of a distant county was once chosen to fill an important office here, and near the close of his term was called upon by a friend from his home town. After doing the usual and showing them the sights of the capital they dropped into a resort to refresh the inner man. One of the visitors, raising the glass, said to Dr. St. John: "Here is your good health; may you live in the hearts of the people, your happiness be eternal and your entrance into Heaven free and unobstructed."

"Just leave out the last part," said the other. "I have much rather remain in Frankfort."

Since such is the estimation in which you are held, it is not surprising that we have selected the great men of the country as the appropriate point for the Fifty-seventh Annual Conclave of this noble organization in Kentucky.

And have come down upon you from the Mountains, the Foot-hills, the Blue Grass, the Pennylyne and the Purchase, a veritable Army of nobility.

Yet we come, not as a conquering band.

With weapons drawn and gory, ready to battle, hand to hand, As told in ancient story—

When Knights of old
And warriors bold
Struck hard for God and glory!

But with loyal hand held forth In friendship's hearty greeting;

We pledge ourselves to prove our worth—
Throughout this happy meeting—
When bright eyes glisten.

When true hearts listen,
And golden hours are fleeting.

Nearly eight hundred years ago our ancient Companions, banded themselves together for the purpose of self defense, and in their marchings on their way to the holy shrine, fighting under a banner which indicated that they were fair to the friends of the Immaculate One, but terrible to her enemies. We come to you today, marching and singing that same banner, pledged to protect the innocent, the destitute, the helpless, and uphold that religion which teaches peace on earth, good will to men. In this warfare we have enlisted the aid of every community, and to you, citizens of Frankfort, I commend these, their representatives.

In the Masonic history of Kentucky yours is the last century, when the Grand Lodge of Kentucky first came into being, it was you who furnished us with our first Grand Master, in the person of William Murray, an able and patriotic man. His was followed by Col. John Allen, who fell at the battle of River Raisin, Robert Johnson, Henry Wingate and Philip Swigert. To the Grand Chapter you gave three Grand High Priests and to the Grand Council seven Grand Masters.

The latter position being now honorably filled by that sterling citizen and slightly gentle knight, James B. Beckham, who, seven years ago, when the Grand Commandery of Kentucky was organized, we again turned to you for a leader, and you gave us that courtly, chivalric Christian, Henry Murray.

spected citizens of your community.

Having cradled us in the early years of our existence and given us of your best manhood, why should we not return to you in the days of your youth, when we have won the fight of a century, and had your title confirmed to that which was yours by right of gift and possession, to rejoice with and hail you as the capital city of our beloved Commonwealth for all time to come.

At the conclusion of the proceedings at the church the grand body marched to the House of Representatives, in the State Capitol, where the private business of the Conclave was entered upon.

Our little city was profusely decorated with flags, bunting and other Masonic banners, so that she appeared a "thing of beauty and a joy forever."

The different Commanderies paraded the streets, which were filled with a vast and admiring crowd of happy people.

At 3:30 p. m. Louisville Commandery, No. 1, gave an exhibition drill on Broadway street, which was witnessed by thousands of citizens. It was a very fine exhibition, the various evolutions being liberally applauded.

From 3 to 5 o'clock p. m. of Wednesday, May 22, Louisville Commandery, No. 10, and Coer de Leon, No. 26, of Paris, held beautiful receptions, the one in the ball room and the other in the parlors of the Capital hotel. They were largely attended and much enjoyed.

At 7 o'clock p. m. a formal dinner was served to the Grand Officers by Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, in their banquet hall in Masonic Temple. Louisville Commandery (which was the general headquarters for the registration of Sir Knights) kept open house from 3 p. m. of Tuesday, and every visitor was cordially welcomed and made to feel at home.

Versailles Commandery held a reception at their headquarters in the Hall of Old Fellows' Temple, from 9 to 11 o'clock, which was thronged with happy Knights, pretty girls and their friends.

At the same hour Owensboro Commandery entertained in the ball room of the Capital hotel, which was thronged with a brilliant assembly. Dancing was a special feature and was kept up until far into the small hours.

On Thursday the Grand Commandery assumed its sessions for business in the House of Representatives, where the following officers were chosen to serve for the ensuing year.

Rev. Mr. R. H. Bryant, of Richmond, Right Eminent Grand Commander.

John W. Landrum, of Mayfield, Very Eminent Deputy Grand Commander.

Thos. A. Keith, of Mayville, Eminent Grand General Prelate.

Wm. B. Johnston, of Lebanon, Eminent Grand Captain General.

Robert S. Moses, of Louisville, Eminent Grand Senior Warden.

Joseph H. Ewalt, of Bourbon County, Eminent Grand Junior Warden.

John G. Cramer, of Lexington, Eminent Grand Prelate.

David P. Robb, of Versailles, Eminent Grand Standard Bearer.

Alfred H. Bryant, of Covington, Eminent Grand Recorder.

William Yeoman, of Versailles, Eminent Grand Standard Bearer.

Lee D. Ray, of Owensboro, Eminent Grand Warden.

Thomas P. Satterwhite, of Louisville, Eminent Grand Warden.

Mason P. Brown, of Frankfort, Eminent Grand Captain of the Guard.

Frankfort was a spirited contest Richmond was chosen as the place for the 58th Grand Conclave, in May, 1905.

From 4 to 6 o'clock, p. m. Richmond Commandery kept open house at the Capital hotel. Right well did they do.

Wednesday afternoon a large number of visitors were given a reception by the proprietors of the O. F. C. distillery, special cars conveying the guests to that place.

Every courtesy was shown the visitors.

At 8 o'clock, p. m. the Grand Commandery wound up its business by a public installation of the newly elected officers at the Capital Hotel.

The festivities were concluded by a grand ball given by Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, at the Capital Hotel ball-room, Thursday night, from 9 o'clock until daylight.

There was a fine crowd of pretty Kentucky girls and matrons and good boys as ever was seen in that classic ball room. The crowd was so dense that it was with great difficulty that the floor space could find space for that purpose, but later on the crowd thinned out.

This was, by all odds, the most successful Conclave ever held by the Knights Templar of the State.

The old girls always do well in the occasion arises. Their guests were cordially and hospitably received and made to feel that the best to be had was none too good for them.

ADMIRAL DEWEY AND GENERAL MILES TALK.

The annual meeting of the General Court of the Order of the Founders and Patriots of America was held in the Governor's Room of the City Hall, in New York, Friday, on the 29th anniversary of the settlement of Jamestown. Governor General Colonel Ralph Earl Prime presided.

Admiral George Dewey was elected Governor General. At the dinner Governor Robert B. Roosevelt, of the State Society, presided. In a brief address Admiral Dewey said in part:

"I don't know as we have any better navy than we had before, but we have better tools than we had a few years ago. Of course the newspapers will say we have not, but, take my word for it, we have the best ships and the best officers and the best men in the whole world. As to the enlisted men especially we are getting the cream of the world, and with such men ready and eager to fight, the other nations are going to let us alone. And in a few years to come the American people are going to have the very best navy in the world—not for aggression, but to protect our rights."

General Miles, speaking in praise of the American soldier, said:

"It has been my privilege to see most of the armies of the world. I have studied the armies of Japan and China and the soldiers of Russia. The success in the East today of the soldiers of the Mikado is due to their wonderful skill, the faithful performance of their duties and their remarkable enterprise. The Russian soldier is courageous in saying his prayers before going into battle and the same thing may be said of the soldiers of the Sultan, and I have found that on the battlefield it's the fighting and not the praying that counts."

"Of all the armies of the world ours seems to differ in that the men are serving for a principle. Our men seem to feel that they are working for a free people—a republic, in which every man is a sovereign and every woman's a sovereign."

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

The members of the Joseph H. Lewis Chapter, U. D. C., are requested to assemble in called meeting at the residence of Mrs. E. L. Samuel, Saturday, May 28, at 3 p.m. Business of importance.

Dr. Weaver's Syrup and Cerate. Successful treatment for blood and skin diseases.

Farm work is progressing fairly well. Corn planting over and preparation for tobacco is the next item on the program. The high prices of the past few weeks have caused the people to renew their labors and try and raise a large crop.

Health moderately fair. Not many cases of illness. Among the number are the following:

Mr. Jane Moore, we are sorry to report, on the sick list.

Mrs. Taylor Terhune, who has been stopping at Mr. Geo. Bright's for some time, is indisposed at present.

Mr. Morgan Moore, who has been on the sick list for some time, is improved a little.

Among the happenings are the following:

Mr. Prince Stivers, and his mother, Mrs. Lige Hopper, were on their way home from Frankfort Monday evening, when the young man got out of the buggy to walk up a hill. When he went to get in again the horse ran for some cause unaccounted for started to run. Mrs. Hopper, by the help of her son, got out of the buggy, but received some painful, but not serious injuries. The horse ran some distance and left the vehicle de-mobilized.

Among the visitors are the following:

Mr. Jeff Poole, wife and daughter, of Ballardsville, were the guests of Mr. Henry Skelton and family Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Murrell Moore and Mr. Leonard Murrell made a trip to Washington county the past week.

Mrs. Margaret Jones, of Ballardsville, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Moore.

Several from this county attended the Conclave at Frankfort Wednesday.

We learn that Mr. Taylor Terhune, who has been temporarily located here for some time, has purchased a location at or near Bridgeport, and will go there and permanently locate.

Mr. W. B. Moore, wife and son were the guests of their son, Mr. Luther, near Midway Saturday, Sunday and Monday last.

Weep not, Merrill, if the loved one goes to parts unknown. Seek consolation for your troubled heart elsewhere. We would suggest that you take your guitar and wander to other fields of labor.

I appear to come one for a soldier of this famous frontier force, hidden in a disused stove pipe a bird's nest, completely made of nails interwoven and lined to perfection. Who can solve the facts? We wonder at the ingenuity and handy work of man, who can be the construction of man that can build this.

Mr. J. H. Miles is the mail carrier on route No. 1. The jolly fellow, here he comes, rain or shine. He is always here on time with a bow and pleasant smile plodding the weary miles away. Hurrah for John.

Mr. J. W. Moore, wife and two daughters, of South Louisville, are the guests of his parents, Mr. W.

B. and Mrs. Bettie Moore, this week. Mr. J. W. Moore is an employee of the L. & N. R. R.

A Beautiful Piece of Work

Mr. B. A. Smith, of Louisville, has on exhibition in the corner window at Howard Johnson's Pool Room, a plaster model of the proposed new Capital Building. It presents a handsome appearance, and is a real work of art which will have to be seen to be fully appreciated. It is made on a scale of 1-8 of an inch to the foot. The work has been viewed by many of our citizens and all are delighted with its appearance.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver in the individual. In fact, it is the disease. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and bright, bright of eye, full of step, vigorous and energetic, full in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach. It is a cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25¢ regular bottles, etc. At all druggists.

ALL BEDBUGS DOOMED

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very great. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup. This is a good medicine for the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and drawback to the patient, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly.

Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that there, the few who are benefited there, the few who are benefited those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle, 25¢; regular size, 50¢. At all drug-

JOHN DRISCOLL

A Physician Cures His Wife of

CONSUMPTION.

One of the leading physicians of the State of Kentucky writes under the date of October 29, 1903, of the remarkable cure which the Dr. Stevens' East India Consumption Cure made for his wife.

DR. STEVENS-NOYES:—"DEAR SIRS:—My wife and I cannot say enough in behalf of your Remedy. Two years ago last spring my wife was confined to her bed. I did all I could for her, and also had four of my best brother physicians called in to attend her. They pronounced her case Consumption, and hopeless. Her lungs were badly diseased, and large abscesses were destroying what remained of them. At this time she was so weak that she could hardly speak above a whisper. She also suffered terribly from profuse night sweats. It required every effort on my part to keep her alive.

"I tried everything that I could think of, or my friends recommend, but my efforts, were all vain. Then Dr. Stevens' East India Consumption Cure was strong recommended to me. I determined to make another attempt to find a cure for her, and immediately commenced the use of your Remedy, following the rules explicitly. It is with gratitude that I add that it was but a few weeks before a decided improvement in her symptoms followed, and to-day she is enjoying better health than she had since childhood. The fact that she has recently passed a rigid examination for life insurance add emphasis to this statement."

"Although I am a practicing physician and have never been an advocate of patent or proprietary medicines, yet I believe that the Dr. Stevens' East India Consumption Cure should have its powerful tonic and corrective qualities recognized in every suitable way. The fact that it has restored my wife to her former health and set her free after a forty years of suspense and sickness, causes me to feel that it is a duty which I owe to other sufferers to make this acknowledgement of the wonderful cure which this Remedy made in my wife's case."

"I feel that I must request you to withhold my name, but you may feel at liberty to refer anyone to me who wishes to make further inquiry regarding your treatment for Consumption, etc."

The Dr. Stevens' East India Consumption Cure is put up in packages lasting one month. The price for a single package is $4.00. No free samples.

Thirty years of crucial test and over one hundred thousand grateful patients prove its positive value in all cases of lung, catarrhal, asthma, nervous diseases, etc.

"THE FIRE'S OUT."

In accordance with previous arrangements the J. E. M. Milling Co. shut down their big mill on Thursday night. So soon as the flour, etc., ground up can be gotten out of the way, the plant will be dismantled and the machinery carried to Lexington. Some thirty employees thrown out of employment and thousands of dollars lost to our merchants.

That's the enterprise and go-ahead that will invite new manufacturers here with a vengeance.

GRACEFULLY DONE.

Frankfort Lodge, No. 530, B. P. O. Elks, did the graceful thing by keeping open house for their brethren of the Knights Templar, during the Conclave, and especially in the handsome entertainment and reception of Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

These jolly good fellows know how to do the right thing.

A RUNAWAY BICYCLE.

STAMPING GROUND.

Capt. Sinclair Johnson, of Ghent, visited his son, Albert, this week. He went to Frankfort Saturday and spent the day with his sister, Mrs. Sallie A. Johnson.

The frost of Saturday night was very light, and no damage was done, although the thermometer dropped to 40 degrees.

Owing to the cold weather, the tobacco plants are growing very slowly. There is some complaint also of destruction by some insect not yet known what. This will make setting somewhat later than usual.

Corn planters are about through, and some of the earlier planters have a good stand of the grain.

Rev. G. W. Hill, the new Baptist pastor, has moved his family into the parsonage, and is comfortably off. He commences his services last Sunday. Large congregations greeted him both morning and night, and he gave them two good, sound sermons.

Quite a number of our citizens went to Frankfort Wednesday to attend the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar parade. They were much pleased with the affair.

Our farmers are through shearing their sheep and have realized good prices for their wool.

FROM HOT TO COLD.

Dysentery is prevalent everywhere in summer and is due to intestinal indisposition and diet, usually with inflammation of the mucous lining of the large bowel. In America the disease is common, but properly treated does not result as seriously as in the tropics. Perry Remond's Liver Kidneys is the best known remedy and the most efficacious in the treatment of dysentery.
